ordinance project. Such a process will lead us to think about the set of huts, sheds, walls, and paths that have settled in country houses through the years. Now, we need to understand before we work on them, as there has been so little, maybe nothing, done without purpose. A set of parts has shaped the area, corners, and tiny squares with the romantic essence of small towns.

By analyzing the structures that are to be found around the country house, some still standing and others already
